

Diversity in the media is very important to maintaining an educated public. Over the years our radio and TV stations have come under the control of fewer and fewer companies. We need to preserve what diversity we still have.